Let's Rise and Fly Away

It's my pleasure and honor to speak to you as Founder of Speakers Academy® International and of The World of Consciousness (to be released by January 1st, 2018)

Today's world is very complicated. It is full of beautiful new developments, and at the same time full of suffering. We cannot say that human beings are born good or bad. We are a tabula rasa, which means that individuals are born without built-in mental content, and that therefore all their knowledge has to come from experience and/or perception. Circumstances and education will shape them.

Overall, most people are good, and it is true to be said, with a dose of gullibility and naiveté. All they want, basically is to be free in their thinking and actions. On the other hand, there are people who are without feelings (other than for themselves), ethics, empathy or compassion. They possess none of these qualities. It has been calculated that approximately 2 á 3% of men and women are defined in that sense as psychopaths. The problem is that just by the nature of their being they thrive for power and very often, because of having no scruples, they succeed in obtaining power. Many of them are in charge of big corporations, religions and governments. At the same time you will find very good people on positions within these power structures.

Think about the Yin-Yan model. There is a dark side, but at its core there is a circle of light. The other side is light with a smaller circle of darkness.

Let me give you an example. Worldwide, the use of medicines is the third cause of death. Does this imply that everyone working in the pharmaceutical world is bad, evil?

No, there are also good people developing, producing and testing new medicines, because they passionately want to cure diseases. They mostly are not aware of the dark powers that surround them.

The same applies to the other side. Let's look at Buddhism e.g., a very interesting and beautiful mind science (I advise you to investigate this more deeply to find wonderful treasures). It forms a non-violent society, an educational path with lots of empathy and compassion. However, within this light side there is a dark spot where you will find Buddhists being aggressive, guilty of sexual assaults and greed.

So, it is interesting to be aware of this Yin-Yan model during your life, because then you might be able to better understand the world around you, and be more equipped to fight disappointments and failures.

There is an interesting definition of Intelligence which says: 'intelligent is he/she who understands the world around him'.

As said before we live in a very interesting period of time, and the main reason is the concept of globalization. And here the Yin-Yan model can help us understand. On the one hand there is the New World Order, which refers to the emergence of a totalitarian world, which will be defined by one government, one currency, no privacy, and full surveillance, all in the name of freedom, democracy, safety and the fight against terrorism, cybercrime and climate change. On the other hand there is the awakening of a wonderful new generation, growing up with internet, social media, YouTube and cameras at hand. And you all, here today, form this new, intelligent and promising generation. You are the voice of the future. The future of this planet lies in your hands. This is a huge responsibility.

I would like to quote a saying of Chilean filmmaker Alejandro Jodorowski, which is very dear to me. As a matter of fact it has become my creed. The saying goes:

“Birds born in a cage think flying is an illness.”

It is of great importance that you learn to accept your own autonomous authority and not anyone else's. Do not accept the authority of teachers, friends, religious leaders, politicians. Even if they seem to show best intentions.

You must be extremely critical towards all influences fired on you like bullets, especially by the media. So, you should also not accept what I say, without deep critical thinking and judgment. As said before, we live in a complicated era. Politicians are disconnected from reality. Will we head towards a New World Order or towards a New World Opportunity? Society (the State) wants to keep you in a cage where everything is the same and everyone is under total control and surveillance. You must conform otherwise you are considered to be 'abnormal' or 'defiant'. Every power will be used to keep you in the cage, and the indoctrination starts already the moment you are born and certainly as soon as you go to school. Most people consider it normal to pay mortgages (as a matter of fact you pay 3 times your house and it is an illusion to think you own the house. Maybe after 30 or 40 years when you finally paid the last penny).

I also would like to say something about getting married, which I consider to be the last form of slavery.

Now, understand me well, to be with someone you love is not slavery. The legal construct to wind threads around you, turn you into a larva, and encapsulate you in a cocoon, is! Worldwide, more than 50% of marriages fall apart, in Belgium even 70%. People have to pay taxes their entire life, which is a form of legalized theft. Mort means dead. Gage comes from the old word gaige and means grip or pledge. Mortgage means a grip on you until you die. The second President of the US, John Adams said: "If you want to conquer the world, you can do this by sword, or you can do this by debts. Debts put you in the survival mode. Be aware to stay out of this mode!"

Go to work, get married, have children, act normal, walk on the pavement, watch tv, obey the law, save for your old age. Then repeat after me... I AM FREE.

You might think now that I am an anarchist (because this is the label they put on someone who wants to be FREE), and you probably imply that I support chaos, but that is certainly not the case. I support freedom. I do not like to be ruled, neither do you. So it is not chaos that I want. It is freedom that I want. The opposite of freedom is slavery. Slaves live in a cage. I want to fly as a bird in the sky, not being kept drugged and/or kept stupid in the matrix with trivialities, sports, entertainment, religion, beer and false flag politicians. A cage full of greed, ignorance, materialism, carnism, consumerism and hypocrisy.

Most of you will be familiar with the book 1984 by George Orwell. I can tell you that everything he has predicted already by far has been implemented. And it will get worse and worse. We are tiptoeing to the Orwellian State. In the first 16 years of this 21st century 265 million people/civilians have been killed by governments. In one year 1725 billion dollars are spent on war, while 175 billion dollars would be sufficient to combat global poverty. So, it is up to you whether to conform yourself or to fly free as a bird. It is very dangerous to have opinions that are unwelcome by the cage-rulers, the farmers of the livestock. Often one pays a high prize. You can even lose your life (think of Socrates or the historical Jesus and many, many more courageous men and women, the list is too long).

We live in a society where a human being has been reduced to a resource. The greatest resource for any human being to control is not natural resources or tools or animals or land but other Human Beings.

You can get a man to give you everything by threatening him. Man has become livestock for the Farmers, raw material for the industry.

It is in this society that economy is considered more important than ecology, law more important than freedom or justice, the collective more important than the individual, control more important than privacy. A society with more and more information and less and less meaning.

The cage is a safe home for the livestock.

This 'Human Farming' has been the most profitable and destructive occupation throughout history and is now reaching its destructive climax.

How we can we get rid of the poison of the world?

The answer is: stop using it! Stop using it in agriculture, the sea, your food, the sky, water and in your body and brain.

Feelings like grudge, anger, jealousy, greed are the poisons of your thoughts. And the biggest poison of all is ignorance.

I prefer to say igNOrance.

Apathy, abdication, and ignorance rule in the cage.

To believe this and at the same time not-believing this (ignoring) is called cognitive dissonance.

In this small country we have more than 2,000 laws and 10.000 rules. The European countries together have more than 300.000 laws and rules. But that's not all.

Brussels has introduced more than 30.000 legal acts. There are also 11.000 court verdicts and 44.000 international standards, all of which must be respected by citizens and companies in the European Union. This all is created to control and encapsulate you and keep you in the cage.

Outside the cage there is only 1 law, the natural law with 7 principles. Next year I hope to tell you something about this law, a law that is not man-made. This natural law governs the consequences of human behavior.

I pledge for you to be as critical as possible during your whole life as outside the cage (or matrix, so you wish) no war exists. Truly, flying in the sky is lonely, but the view is beautiful.

The distance from the cage to freedom is the same distance as the distance from your mind to your heart. Let your mind not be controlled, but let your heart control you. The mind thinks, the heart knows. Psychiatry today has invented a new disease, which is labeled ODD. This stands for Oppositional Defiant Disorder and it says that when you do not conform to the cage, you are not normal but 'abnormal'.

In the near future a New World Order means that you will be arrested on the street, when they (the enforcers) suspect, assume or even think that you 'suffer' from ODD, and they lock you up to re-educate you.

When one person suffers from delusions, we call it a mental illness, when society suffers from them we call it normal. Make no mistake about it – enlightenment is a destructive process ... enlightenment is the crumbling away of untruth.

Dear friends, you are gathered here today with 200 fellow international students, and I do hope that my freedom advice will reach all of you and not just some. We can only be kept in cages we refuse to see.

Some interesting quotes to finalize

'The more real you get, the more unreal the world gets'
- John Lennon

'I awoke only to see that the rest of the world was still asleep'
- Leonardo da Vinci

'Condemnation without investigation is the height of IGNORANCE'
- Albert Einstein

'Until you make the unconscious conscious, it will direct your life and you will call it fate'
- Carl Jung

Welcome to the beautiful skies of this universe. I am happy to be 'abnormal' and wish you the most beautiful wings. Wings like those of an eagle or of an angel.

Let's all rise!
Let's all rise today and fly away!
Have a wonderful, free future!
Thank you so much.
